Thread Veins

Both Leg and Facial thread veins can be treated via IPL (intense pulse light) or NdYAG laser. Leg thread veins may also be treated via an injection process called Sclerotherapy. Sclerotherapy requires the wearing of compression stockings for a short period after.

At your free consultation the doctor will assess the best treatment tailored to your individual needs, including advice and regular reviews, following your procedure.

Rosacea

Performed via IPL which shrinks the blood vessels in the face and reduce the flushing dreaded by Rosacea sufferers. The doctors at LasaDerm will also treat any associated facial thread veins with NdYag Laser at no extra cost

Pigmentation

Also treated via IPL using filters with a different wavelength. More often this is combined with Medical Microdermabrasion/Hydrodermabrasion to enhance the results

Prior to starting treatment for either of the above, LasaDerm doctors use the Beau-Visage 3D photographic imaging system which allows them to identify the exact depth, character and position of the blood vessels, melanin and pigment allowing for a precise and individual treatment program that few other clinics can match.

'Bargain' car not so Smart

BY MAL TATTERSALL
editor@mk-news.co.uk

AT JUST under £4,000 with only 38,000 miles on the clock, the gleaming black and blue Smart Fortwo car that Carrie Ellwood spotted in the showroom looked a bargain.

It had all the extras – heated leather seats, air conditioning and great-sounding radio – and salesman Neil Johnson assured her the seven-year-old motor was in 'perfect condition'.

What's more, he would throw in a three-month warranty. So what had she got to lose?

As it turned out, everything.

First the air conditioning wasn't working when she drove it home from the Woburn Car Sales showroom in Bletchley on July 5 last year.

Soon other things began going wrong too. The central locking packed in, a warning light stayed on, and then a strange noise started coming from the gearbox.

When the garage failed to correct all the faults, on August 29 they offered Carrie a £2,600 part exchange value against any other vehicle they had in stock.

That meant her car had lost £1,400 in value in just eight weeks – or £25 a day.

Carrie, 32, of Stapeley Court, Westcroft, refused. She said: "I wasn't very happy and insisted they repair my car under the guarantee."

But a week later she received a letter from the warranty company saying it had been cancelled because Woburn Car Sales had not paid for it.

Eventually she took her case to Milton Keynes County Court where a judge found in her favour and ordered the garage to pay her £4,550 in compensation by April 16.

That Carrie, a projects manager for a market research firm in Northampton, hoped was the end of the matter.

But despite assurances from both Mr Johnson and a girl called Tracey that the money was being transferred into her bank account, it never arrived.

Then just hours after emailing the garage on April 17 warning that she would be applying for a 'warrant of execution' to send in the bailiffs, stunned Carrie got an email.

It said that they had gone to inspect the car from outside her home and found that it had been so badly damaged it was 'a write off'.

Consequently, it added, they were appealing to the court to set aside the judgment against them because the vehicle is 'now subject to an insurance claim'.

Carrie said: "I couldn't believe it. I dashed home and found the paintwork bubbling all over the car.

"It would appear that somebody had very recently thrown brake fluid over it.

"I had inspected it just a couple of days earlier and it was okay then.

"There were 17 other cars in the enclosed car park at the back of my home.

"But for some strange reason mine was the only one targeted. I immediately called the police who are investigating."

MK NEWS called Woburn Car Sales and asked to speak to Ian Summers, who owns the business.

He was not available, so we asked to speak to Mr Johnson, who was also unavailable.

Yesterday solicitors acting for the company issued a statement.

This said that they had gone to look at the car and noticed the damage 'immediately upon the monies having been transferred by way of telegraphic transfer' to Carrie.

The statement goes on: "The damage was a cause of real concern.

"The claimant [Carrie] had a duty to return the vehicle with the bodywork in the state it was in at the time it was sold to her. In view of this, the telegraphic transfer that had been actioned was cancelled."

Girl, 11 sexually assaulted on city centre bridge

AN 11-YEAR-OLD girl was sexually assaulted as she walked across a busy city centre bridge in broad daylight.

The victim was walking over H6 Childs Way towards Avebury Boulevard, near the Premier Inn hotel shortly after 7.20am on Friday when she was approached by a man from behind. He pushed her to the floor and sexually assaulted her, before running away.

The offender was white and aged around 30 with green or brown eyes. He was around 5ft 9ins and of a thin build with brown hair. At the time of the offence, he was believed to be wearing a dark blue hooded top with a dot of white paint on the back, dark blue jeans and brown safety boots with steel toecaps.

Investigating officer, Det Sgt Brenda McDaid from Milton Keynes local CID, said: "This was at a time of day when there would have been a lot of people around in the area, so we want to talk to anyone who saw a man matching this description.

"I would like to reassure the community that we will do all we can to find the offender and our officers are conducting patrols on the area, so if anyone has any concerns, please do speak to one of the officers."

Local Police Area Commander Barry Halliday said: "These types of offences are extremely rare and I want to reassure people that everything is being done to locate and arrest this individual.

"I would ask people to remain vigilant and to report anything suspicious to officers. And anyone who has any concerns at all, please do approach a member of our neighbourhood team out on patrol."

Anyone with information can contact Det Sgt McDaid on 101, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Safety failures cost rogue landlord £9k

ANNABEL HOWARD
annabel.howard@mk-news.co.uk

A LANDLORD has been ordered to pay nearly £9,000 after neglecting to make his house safe for tenants.

Tendayi Mutamiri, of Fonda Meadows, Oxley Park, was found guilty of failing to licence a house in multiple occupation (HiMO), contrary to section 72(i) of the Housing Act 2004.

Mutamiri, who represented himself in court on May 16, was also found guilty of eight other offences under the Management of HMO Regulations 2006, contrary to section 234(3) of the Housing Act 2004.

The court heard how private sector housing officers working for Milton Keynes Council had taken Mutamiri to court for the offences in Cleavers Avenue, Conniburrow, which is now in new ownership.

Offences included not having a valid gas safety certificate and failing to ensure the gas boiler was maintained and communal areas were kept in a safe working condition.

He was fined £2,000 for failing to licence the HiMO, £500 for each of the other offences and ordered to pay council costs of £2,959.56 and a £15 victim surcharge.

In total he will have to pay £8,974.56.

Jane Reed, assistant director for housing at Milton Keynes Council, said: "We will not hesitate to use the full force of law to bring irresponsible landlords to account.

"In this case the landlord failed to meet the legal requirements that are there for the protection and safety of the tenants and neighbours."

Making headlines of his own: Charlie Ray won Student of the Year at Milton Keynes College

Charlie scoops top award

A JOURNALISM student who has already seen his name in print, edits a magazine and has even been giving lectures of his own has been named Milton Keynes College Student of the Year.

Charlie Ray will be one of the first students from the college to complete a full BA honours degree in journalism when he takes up his place at the University of Bedfordshire's new University Campus Milton Keynes.

Students had previously had to travel away from Milton Keynes to complete their studies but Charlie led a successful student lobbying campaign to bring the third year course closer to home. He has already had a number of articles published and will spend the summer gaining experience at popular film magazine Empire.

While at college he has designed, edited and produced Unity magazine, the in-house journal for staff, and given lectures at the University of Bedfordshire and the University of Northampton on Adobe InDesign publishing software.

He even helps out the college's own marketing team with their social media.

Charlie, who also won the Higher Education Award, said: "I think if you love your job, you never work a day in your life.

"In addition to my studies I work for the college in my spare time, which I love to do.

"Milton Keynes College has just provided me with opportunity after opportunity.

"I've been trained, given a job – coming here has opened so many doors for me and I am so very proud to receive this amazing award."

A total of 23 awards were presented on the night, which included a number of student performances and food prepared and served by those on catering courses.

Earmarked for development: The paddocks next to Wolverton Road where homes could be built

New homes may fund park plans

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

NEW homes could be built in a village to fund improvements to parkland.

MK NEWS can reveal The Parks Trust is planning to restore the historic Manor Gardens in Great Linford.

This could include revamping the ponds, providing a link to the water gardens across the canal and reopening views across to Little Linford.

The trust has also joined forces with Great Linford Parish Council, which is responsible for the main park, to see how facilities like the sports pitches, tennis courts, play area and landscape along the canal can be improved.

The Memorial Hall could also be relocated as a part of a new sport and community facility in the park.

But in order to fund this development, The Parks Trust plans to build about 100 homes on two or three of the surrounding paddocks.

This includes land next to Wolverton Road, Willen Lane and Marsh Drive with new paddocks created nearby.

The trust wants to know what people think of its ideas, the way it proposes to fund the improvements and what should be in the parks before a public consultation is held.

David Foster, chief executive of the trust, said: "We believe there is an opportunity to make significant improvements to the parkland of Great Linford.

"We've discussed our ideas with the parish council and are now getting its advice on how best to consult more widely with local residents.

"These are very early stages so we're keen to understand what people think."

Police reveal fatal fire looks 'less deliberate'

EXTENSIVE enquiries into a fatal fire at a home in Great Linford have revealed it is 'less likely' it was started deliberately.

Police are no longer investigating a 58-year-old man who was arrested on suspicion of murder and released on bail.

Emergency services and a team of forensics have been investigating the scene of the tragedy in St Leger Court after a woman's body was discovered following the fire on May 19.

Senior Investigating Officer Det Ch Insp, Gill Wootton, said: "While it is not possible to give a definitive cause of the fire at this stage, a deliberate act now seems less likely."

Canal project wins award

A PROJECT that helped restore a 200-year-old aqueduct has picked up an award.

Speaking about the £300,000 project's success, James Clifton, enterprise manager at the trust, said: "We spent a lot of time visiting local schools, telling them the story of the aqueduct and how important it was back in the day."

We've found a way to walk to new Waitrose

I WAS surprised to read about people's difficulty gaining access to the new Waitrose store ('Access to new store slammed', MK NEWS, May 22).

My wife and I, both pensioners, have twice walked the redway system from Willen Park to the store (about one-and-a-half miles).

We used the subway underpass at the Oakgrove roundabout (Brickhill Street/Chaffron Way) and then crossed Chaffron Way safely by using the subway 60 yards west of the store – this leads to a short grassy footpath ending up in the staff car park next to the main entrance.

I'm not suggesting for one moment that this situation is ideal – we need a bus stop (with a shelter) at the store, a regular bus service from the city centre and the footpath from the subway needs improving. But please don't say there are no subways – they are already there!

Jack Dinsdale
Willen Park

The lack of access is 'sheer incompetence'

IS THE news that the new Waitrose store lacks cycling/walking access some sort of backdated April Fools joke?

If it is not, one has to wonder at the sheer incompetence that has produced such a situation.

All new developments used by the public, whatever the size, need clearly defined redway links, with underpasses or bridges, and cycle parking to cope with the expected number of cyclists.

To provide these at a later date is simply not good enough. They have to be provided from day one, as in the days of the Milton Keynes Development Corporation.

Philip Ashbourn
Downhead Park

China could do worse than copy city design

SO MIKE O'Sullivan thinks it would be a bad idea for the Chinese to copy the Milton Keynes planning layout (Letters, MK NEWS, May 22).

I'm sure most Chinese would love to have towns like this with trees and open spaces.

I hope they copy the original concept of the town before over expansion by the current power-brokers ruined it for us.

For a start they would probably use their redways and underpasses without the hazards of broken glass and the reported muggings.

There is nothing wrong with our planning layout as such, it's the attitudes of some of the people. Motorists still charge down the gridroads then brake hard at roundabouts.

CO2 is an alleged greenhouse gas and not a noxious emission and the air in our town is relatively clean and fresh compared to some of the smogbound cities in China.

Does he think we should go back to high density planning and build tower blocks and live like the Chinese in their new cities?

B Spencer

Take a walk on the wild side with Parks Trust

THE recent State of Nature report reveals that 60 per cent of animal and plant species have declined in the UK in the last 50 years.

In Milton Keynes though, The Parks Trust is privileged to be custodian of an abundance of animal, insect and plant life in our 5,000 acres of parks, green space corridors and ancient woodlands.

Our new city hosts around 28 species of butterfly and if you want to see otters, lapwings, great crested newts, bats, water voles and harvest mice you'll find all of these in Milton Keynes too.

The report acknowledges that information about the state of nature in the UK is often down to the efforts of volunteers who contribute their time to recording species.

We have a great opportunity for you to get involved in doing this at our 24-hour BioBlitz on Saturday, June 15.

From 10.30am we'd love you to join Parks Trust staff and local wildlife experts in an effort to record every living thing at Stony Stratford Nature Reserve.

If you have any expertise in identifying plants or animals, or just want to help us survey as much as possible please get in touch.

Email events@theparkstrust.com to register your interest in taking part or see www.theparkstrust.com for more details.

Congratulating council on its 'superb' meeting

I AM writing to you to compliment Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council on a superb annual meeting on May 16.

I have not been to a more pleasant and well organised meeting of the council for a long while.

The mood was quite relaxed, fun and chilled and didn't seem like a council meeting at all.

The presentation by Cllr Marie Osborne and Hannah Kitchen was excellent to watch and to listen to. Congratulations to them again on a job well done with the clean up.

The awards ceremony was brilliant and every winner was worthy of their accolade.

I hope we have these awards every year, like they have done in the past.

I was only there as a member of public, no award or presentation to do, so for me the highlight of the night was the special mention I got from the chairman Cllr Hilary Saunders.

Thank you so much for making me feel special.

I have already thanked the council privately, but this deserves a public mention in your paper.

Mark's Monthly Focus

Leading the way in preparing future workforce

EDUCATION is both a right and a privilege but the system came under heavy pressure at the end of the last Government.

With the UK's literacy and numeracy rates declining compared to other European countries, 50 per cent of 18 year olds going on to university and not all securing jobs and a skills deficit appearing in certain trades, clearly something needed to be done.

Over the past two years we have seen a shift within the curriculum at all levels.

History teaching is going back to basics and it is now compulsory that children stay in full-time education until they are 18. There is a visible movement within the education system to ensure pupils learn life skills and are more concentrated on their futures after school and college.

In this vein, a Milton Keynes charity which I had the pleasure of visiting recently, Worktree, is encouraging 10-year-old children to learn and gain inspiration for their futures with the new World of Work scheme they created.

Schools who sign up to the scheme not only get a 'top trump' style set of cards for children to play with, detailing information about different careers, but also have different professional people coming into the school to tell them about what they do.

By getting children at an early age thinking about what career they want to do, I was really impressed how more focussed it seems they are.

Milton Keynes College has also seen some great changes with this approach as students are starting to focus on the reason why they are learning what they are.

The college has seen an increase in apprenticeships taken on by students, which have been projected by the current government as a viable alternative to university education, and instead offers skill-based learning. With some time spent in the workplace and the rest of the time at college, students are gaining proper working experience at the same time as continuing their academic education.

Milton Keynes has been particularly successful nationally, as local businesses take on apprentices. For example Mercedes Benz takes on 350 a year to learn mechanics and the college partners with firms in CMK that teach accountancy and other such skills.

We are so fortunate to be able to not only enjoy some of the more traditional education on offer but now also this forward facing approach.

It is so important that we prepare our youth for the world of work and I am confident these new changes are helping achieve this.

Deliberate attack: Police visit Granby Mosque after a burning bottle was thrown at the building

Leader condemns attack on mosque

BY ANNABEL HOWARD
annabel.howard@mk-news.co.uk

A FAITH council chief will not be swayed from his plans to 'build a climate of mutual trust' between different communities following an attack on a mosque.

Milton Keynes Council of Faiths chairman Richard Wightman, 54, said the group is all in favour of toleration and understanding.

The dad-of-two from Newport Pagnell, who is a senior pastor at New Life church in Wolverton, said: "We stand together with all the other faith groups. We really want to support and encourage each other.

He has been in touch with the Zainabiya Islamic Centre (Granby Mosque) to offer support.

He also said the council: "Utterly deplores the heinous actions of those responsible for the murder of a serving member of Her Majesty's Armed Forces in London and the attack on the mosque on Thursday.

"The Milton Keynes faith community is united in its prayers and our thoughts are with the family of Drummer Lee Rigby of the 2nd Battalion the Royal Regiment of Fusiliers."

Police are treating the attack, in which a bottle containing flammable liquid was set alight and thrown on to the roof of the Bletchley mosque, as arson.

Investigating officer Det Insp Nick Glister said: "There were people inside the mosque at the time of the incident and this could have been far worse had it not been for the quick actions of the people who were standing outside the mosque."

Police Area Commander Barry Halliday said: "This is an extremely disgraceful and cowardly act."

Centre's president: 'There is nothing to be afraid of'

GRANBY Mosque Muslims have said they are 'extremely shocked' after the attack on Thursday night.

President Shabir Sabur, pictured, 60, from Leighton Buzzard, told how members smelt burning while leaving the mosque after a function.

He said: "We had some members who managed to climb onto the roof and put it out and police responded very rapidly.

"We have a very peaceful relationship with the local community, we were not expecting anything like this.

"Nobody is scared or has been put off.

"There is nothing to be afraid of."

Speaking to MK NEWS yesterday he told of the support he has received from other groups.

He added: "This strengthens our resolve not to allow extremists on all sides to divide us."

Shabir also said that he did not consider the Woolwich murderers to be Muslim.

He said: "We as Muslims do not accept that the perpetrators were Muslims. Islam does not teach the vile views of these murderers."

'These acts won't be condoned in city'

CITY MP Iain Stewart has condemned last week's 'reprisal' attack on the mosque.

He also expressed his shock at the 'sickening' attack on Drummer Lee Rigby in Woolwich last Wednesday.

In a statement released to MK NEWS he said: "I was shocked by the sickening and unprovoked attack on Drummer Lee Rigby in Woolwich and I condemn such acts in the strongest of terms.

"I equally condemn the mindless 'reprisal' attack on the mosque at Granby in my constituency and similar occurrences elsewhere in the country.

"Milton Keynes has always been a tolerant community and I would urge everyone to unite in our stand against violent extremism of every form.

"The attack in Granby is as equally abhorrent as the act in Woolwich and we should not condone such acts in our city."

Mascot: Harry the Hamster poses for MK NEWS with West Bletchley Council's Gennaro Corrado

Harry hams it up for carnival

HARRY the Hamster is gearing up for the West Bletchley Carnival - taking place next week.

The June 8 extravaganza will see mischievous Harry and his hamster friends head along with their water and land zorbs.

Kids can challenge themselves to rolling, flipping, twisting and walking on water with aqua devices, or playing five-a-side football in the body option.

But the activity is not just for children alone, as the zorbs also give a thoroughly good workout for your fitness levels.

Cheeky Harry will also be leading the Hamster crew in the Day Out at the Zoo parade, raising important funds for the Dog's Trust.

Council defend meals charges

BY ANNABEL HOWARD
editor@mk-news.co.uk

COUNCIL leader Andrew Geary has blasted Labour claims that the city has the second most expensive Meals on Wheels service in the UK.

Labour research, which used data from 64 of a possible 150 local councils, showed the price of the service as being second only to Richmond upon Thames.

Labour councillor Nigel Long, chairman of the council's health and adult social care select committee, said he wanted to 'expose these unfair, high charges'.

The party claims the average cost of a meal in Milton Keynes is £5.19, but the council says this is only the price for top-notch grub.

Cllr Geary said: "As proven by the previous Labour government, they have a really good way of massaging figures so that what you see on the surface may not always be what you see below the surface."

Cllr Long said: "In addition to charging £5.33 next year for Meals on Wheels the Conservatives have increased laundry charges to £10.07 per wash. We clearly need a review to look at what older and disabled people are charged."

An official council statement said: "Our contractor, Apetito, does more than just deliver meals. Its staff act as the eyes and ears of Milton Keynes Council."

Search for man after girl raped

POLICE have released an e-fit image of man they are searching for in connection with a rape of a 12-year-old girl.

Senior Investigating officer, Detective Inspector Phil Hayes, said: "We take all allegations of a sexual nature very seriously and we are continuing to investigate this report fully.

"I urge anyone who recognises the description or the man in this picture or who has any information on the incident to get in touch immediately.

Training future digital experts

BY ANNABEL HOWARD
editor@mk-news.co.uk

AN ACADEMY which plans to teach students how to use their social media skills in business has been launched.

Milton Keynes College has teamed up with Ecademy founder Penny Power to be one of the first in the country to offer social and digital media apprenticeship courses.

The Digital Youth Academy will teach students how to use sites like Twitter and Facebook for sales, marketing and networking for commercial benefit.

They will also learn how to blog effectively, plan online content and produce digital newsletters.

The course, which was launched at the college's Chaffron Way campus on Monday last week, has been designed by Mrs Power, who is head of the Digital Youth Academy and a former government advisor on internet matters.

She told the audience how by learning these skills the 'born digital' generation will move British business forward.

Adi Gupta, head of computing and IT at the college, said: "The use of digital media is becoming an indispensable tool for businesses, especially in the SME sector.

"To take full advantage of everything the modern internet can offer it is really important to have staff who are completely comfortable in the digital world.

"The course will benefit employers enormously as having this kind of cutting edge expertise in-house will potentially give them a real commercial edge."

Students will learn to formulate a digital marketing strategy, increase sales and productivity and how to grow their business.

Adi added: "Young people are so comfortable with social media because they take it for granted as a normal part of their lives."

A charity single for brave Henry

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A SINGER is releasing a charity single to help a brave three-year-old boy with cancer get life-saving treatment.

Juan Camus, a recording artist in Milton Keynes who is well-known in his native Spain, has offered to release a single to help raise money for Henry Allen.

Henry, from Bletchley, had been in remission from neuroblastoma, but sadly the cancer returned this week.

And 40-year-old Juan has written and recorded One More Time, which will be released tomorrow, to raise funds that could help send Henry abroad for treatment.

"When I wrote it I thought of Henry's mother telling him that everything will be alright," he said. "Now the cancer has returned that message is even more important."

A fundraising meeting will also be held at the Novotel Hotel in Heelands tomorrow at 7.30pm to help raise money for Henry.

Fundraising: Juan Camus and Henry Allen with his mum Dawn

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Help to feed all in need

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A FOOD Bank that is being used more than ever has announced its first festival.

The MK Food Bank Festival will take place on Saturday, June 8 from 1-5pm at Monkston Playing Fields.

The event will feature live music from local artists such as Bicycle Thieves, Los Morados and Katie Buckhaven, as well as a dance performance from Salsa Rica and an African drumming workshop from Trap Media.

There will also be a bouncy castle, barbecue and bar.

Entry to the event is free, but organisers are asking everyone to take along a food donation – anything dried, tinned or long life that could help feed those in need.

Rebecca Savage, part of the team at MK Food Bank, said: "We are already seeing a 20 per cent increase in demand compared to this time last year and we are encouraging everyone in Milton Keynes to come together and support us as we continue supporting the needy.

"We are most grateful for the generosity of local people and we hope to see as many people as possible – but please don't forget to bring your food donation!"

Filling a gap: MK Food Bank, which is helping more needy people than ever, is hoping to raise awareness

Are you thinking about adoption?

Local couple Claire and Peter, adopted two children through St Francis' Children's Society; here is their story.

Claire and Peter decided to adopt after trying for many years to conceive. A friend recommended St Francis' Children's Society. Claire and Peter started their journey with us; our dedicated social workers supported them though the process.

Their first child David was adopted in 2006. David is now 9 years old, and is very happy, confident and well adjusted.

Claire says that 'it went so well the first time we decided to do it again…'

The couple were matched with 19 month old Laura who could not walk or speak. Before Laura was placed with the family she had moved foster families four times in her short life. Claire was not fazed by this. Introductions started at the foster family's home and she was placed with the family shortly after.

'Now she's flying! She's running everywhere and you can't shut her up!" Laura has now been with her new family for nearly two years and they have not looked back. Laura is very happy and secure, she enjoys being with her brother and his friends.

Mum and dad worried about how David would cope with the introduction of another child. He was fully involved in Laura's adoption. He was brilliant and is very protective towards his little sister and has enjoyed showing her off to his friends and his teachers.

Claire comes from a large family and the extended family 'love the kids to pieces'. Claire and Peter keep in contact with the Society and join in family events and workshops.

Claire says

'Adoption is not second best, it is first best, I would never been able to make such beautiful, happy children in a million years! We have ups and downs like anyone else; we have a very busy house. The kids are so happy and loved. They are such a positive thing that has come into our lives. We are making strong and confident people. We have as normal a family life as anyone else.'

If you would like to find out more about adoption, St Francis' Children's Society are holding an adoption information evening on Wednesday 5 June from 6.30-8,00pm at our offices in Woolstone.

Call us on 01908 572700 or visit our website at www.sfcs.org.uk

Hoping for your votes: Members of MK SNAP would like to receive the Community Chest cash

OUR SHORTLIST AND WHAT READERS SAID ABOUT THEM

■ CANDO:MK This charity caters for people with chaotic lives and/or social isolation problems and heavily relies on donations. Leader Barbara often uses her own cash to fund the group and is so wonderful.
■ MK Melting Pot They have given me great skills to set up my own business and have supported people with sickle cell anaemia tremendously. MK Melting Pot distributes food for single parents and elderly people in the community every Friday.
■ MK Bereavement Group Is always there in the most difficult times of personal loss, especially when children and babies die. The group has to raise all its own funds for a place to meet, training volunteers and general running costs.
■ Bletchley Rest Centre No membership is required at the drop-in for elderly and lonely people who seek company and a warm cup of tea or coffee. It has no other income other than fundraising by volunteers who also run the centre.
■ MK SNAP Sees adults with learning disabilities as individuals with unique skills and talents. It's caring, supportive and encouraging staff are dedicated to giving each learner the chance to live a rich, rewarding and self-fulfilling life.
■ Men in Sheds MK The Shed fulfils many roles giving a new lease of life to many. For someone living alone it's the chance to get out and make new friends, to do something interesting with your day. For some, the shed is like a second home.
■ MK Headway Helps people with brain associated injuries. They help those suffering their daily battles and gives their carers (often family members) a welcome break.
■ Disability Swimming Club Unpaid volunteers from Bletchley and District Swim Club run sessions for children and young people with special needs and disabilities giving them the chance to achieve goals that typical children may take for granted.

Vote for a group to receive £500

NOMINATIONS have been flooding in from worthy causes across the area who are hoping to get their hands on £500.

As previously reported, MK NEWS has joined forces with housebuilder Taylor Wimpey to offer the cash in a Community Chest initiative.

We have been asking readers to nominate good causes they feel are most deserving of the money.

And after receiving dozens of entries from all kinds of groups across Milton Keynes, we have drawn up a shortlist and are asking for you to vote for your favourite.

We will be accepting votes until noon on Wednesday, June 5 and the cause which receives the most will receive the prize.

Taylor Wimpey North Thames is currently building high quality new homes in Oakbrook in the city's Newton Leys.

Christine Scarborough, sales and marketing director, said: "Each and every organisation on the list does great work in the local community, and it's now down to readers to decide which one will receive the £500 cash award."

'A second home': Men in Sheds MK gives a new lease of life to many people in the city MK NEWS editor, Cally Jenkins, added: "We have been thrilled with the number of nominations from readers.

"It was a really difficult job to produce a shortlist. All the groups put forward are deserving of this money and show the great work being done by unsung heroes in our community.

"I would urge everyone to vote for the one they would like to see receive this prize."

Should MK buy into independent shops?

NOBODY would argue the shops, restaurants and pubs in MK aren't second to none.

Virtually every famous high street name is represented.

But what about the quirky independent traders?

Mal Tattersall went to find out

YOU can spend all day browsing round John Lewis, Marks & Spencer, Debenhams, WH Smiths and the Apple store in Milton Keynes.

You can take a coffee break in Starbucks or Costa, have a pint afterwards in a JD Wetherspoon pub, or dine at a host of family-favourite restaurants like Frankie and Benny's, Chiquito or Nando's.

But fancy something a bit different and you may be stuck.

Theo Chalmers, chairman of the Urban Eden lobby group fighting to preserve the original Milton Keynes masterplan, reckons the lack of a traditional high street may have something to do with it.

Instead the shops, restaurants and even the pubs are collected together in centres and districts where the leases are long and the rents high.

He also believes the people of Milton Keynes like to play it safe and are attracted to big names they know and trust.

"If an independent spicy chicken joint set up next door to a national chain and both are equally good, folk would still plump for the well-known brand," he said.

One business that has become the victim of this is Shenley News general store, which has been forced to close after 22 years after a Sainsbury's Local opened next door.

Nayab Haider, owner of the store in Benbow Court, said: "Sainsbury's has come here and it is open from 7am-11pm and sells everything. It has not left any room for us to exist.

"The rent is so high, I pay £28,000 per annum. At one time we had seven shops in Milton Keynes, but in 10 years they have all closed.

"I know someone who wanted to open a Budgens at the site of the Sainsbury's store. He offered a higher rent than Sainsbury's were paying, but they chose Sainsbury's.

"I do think independent shops can thrive in Milton Keynes because the demographic is good, but the council wants blue-chip companies to move in at any cost. The community will lose in the end."

But Milton Keynes Council said all sorts of businesses are welcome in the city.

Cllr David Hopkins, cabinet member for economic development and enterprise, said: "We are very open to businesses of all shapes, sizes and specialities and diversifications – we welcome anyone who can bring something to the table.

"The shops, stores, pubs and restaurants, as well as other outlets, are very like Milton Keynes itself – a mixture of the best of the new and the best of the more traditional.

"We do not overtly target 'chain' stores. But the fact that they are keen to come to Milton Keynes, to prosper within our strong economic climate, should not be criticised."

On Tuesday The Federation of Small Businesses (FSB) launches its Keep Trade Local challenge. The campaign, being backed by MK NEWS and city MP Iain Stewart, encourages people to only use local and independent companies for one week from July 29.

David Maidment, North Bucks chairman, said: "Small businesses are the heart of the local community; every £1 spent with a local supplier is worth £1.76 to the local economy and only 36p if it is spent out of the area.

"The FSB, through its Keep Trade Local campaign, is trying to encourage businesses to work together to make their area a place to visit."

The news has been welcomed by groups like the Stony Stratford Business Association, which is proud of the number of independent companies flourishing in the town.

Chairman Ross Ellens, who owns the arcade and runs a greetings card shop, claims the town cashes in on the lack of diversity in Milton Keynes.

"The rents, rates and service charges in the central areas are astronomical," he said.

"Small independents just setting up can't afford them. Nor can they risk tying themselves into 21-year leases. It is easier for them to open here. We have lovely architecture, quirky shops, traditional style pubs, some

Food for thought at school

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A SCHOOL claims it has seen a marked improvement in pupils' behaviour since appointing its own head chef.

Greenleys Junior School, in Wolverton, has hired Jack Freshwater to bring better quality hot meals like chilli con carne, chicken curry, pasta and meatballs to the menu, which are made using local ingredients.

Jack, who had been head chef at The Cannon pub in Newport Pagnell, said the chance to move to the school was too good to turn down.

"It was an opportunity, not only to provide top class meals, but to help educate children on the importance of cooking and diet," he said.

"The food they had here before was almost like an aeroplane meal, but now they are getting more quality and bigger portions.

"They're not going away hungry and that feeds their minds just as much as their stomachs."

Tucking in: Year Six pupils Harry Summer, Callum Austin and Maddison Milton get ready to taste one of chef Jack Freshwater's dinners at Greenleys Junior School

Headteacher Mike Talbot added: "The introduction of our free breakfast club has impacted on the number of children attending and therefore having a proper breakfast before starting lessons. This has led to a huge decrease in the number of students arriving late for morning registration.

"Lunchtime is now much calmer and children are more focused for the afternoon session."

Seal of approval from deputy PM

STANTON School has been given a seal of approval by Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg – after the school was announced as a regional winner of the 2013 Pupil Premium Awards in the primary schools category.

After coming out on top in the south east, the school has been invited to attend a reception hosted by Mr Clegg in London when the national winner will be announced.

The Pupil Premium is additional funding (almost £500 per pupil) for schools to help children eligible for free school meals in reaching their potential and reducing educational inequalities.

The awards recognise the schools that make a difference to disadvantaged pupils.

In a letter addressed to headteacher Helen Nicholson, Mr Clegg wrote: "This is a wonderful testimony to the excellent work that you and your staff have been doing."

Fulbrook students jet off for day trip to Croatia

LUCKY students from Fullbrook Middle School had a history lesson to remember – a trip to the ancient city of Dubrovnik.

The 140 pupils from the Woburn Sands school boarded the plane to Croatia last month after being selected by travel group Monarch in its nationwide Make Education Fun appeal.

Pupils were given a history lesson on the plane and when they landed they took a stroll around the city's famous walls, some of which were constructed as early as the 12th century.

"It's been a challenge organising a trip to Dubrovnik for 140 pupils in such a short time," said Stephen Cardwell, headteacher at the school.

"But it was all worth it to see the look on the children's faces.

"We'd all like to thank Monarch for coming up with this super idea of the best day trip ever and giving the children a wonderful day."

Pupils dig in to help with new building

Digging a hole: Headteacher Lizzie Bancroft and pupils start off the construction work

PUPILS dug out their spades to help start the development of a new teaching block at their school.

The £1.1million development at Loughton Manor First School will provide an extra learning space for an additional 90 foundation pupils over the next three years, starting next September.

The children were accompanied by Cllr Andy Dransfield at the groundbreaking ceremony and removed the first mounds of earth to a trumpet fanfare.

Headteacher Lizzie Bancroft said: "It's fantastic to see the construction of the building get underway.

"The new teaching block will be a welcome addition to the school and provide a much-needed resource for both pupils and teachers."

Feast of fun at culture festival

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

ORGANISERS of a festival are hoping even more people will turn out to celebrate the city's arts and culture this summer.

Now in its fourth year, the Celebrating Arts & Culture Festival, held in Campbell Park, regularly attracts thousands of people.

Plans for this year's free event, taking place on August 10 and 11, include music and dance acts, a virtual screen of peace, Islamic-style gardens and a fashion show featuring local disabled people.

The rain failed to dampen last year's festival, which featured popular Britain's Got Talent dance act Signature.

And Anouar Kassim, director of the Milton Keynes Islamic Arts, Heritage and Culture Organisation, said he hopes the 2013 event, which is being supported by MK NEWS, will attract even more than last year's 5,500 crowd.

"This year we are hoping more people will come than ever before," he said.

Having a blast: Festival-goers had a great time in 2012

"The festival is all about bringing the community together to celebrate arts and culture.

"We have people from outside Milton Keynes who come along because we are a city that has a 'get up and go' attitude.

"People can expect a really enjoyable family fun day with lots of diverse food, diverse acts and a relaxing atmosphere."

The festival is funded by the MK Community Foundation, but the organisers are looking for local businesses to help sponsor the event.

Anyone interested should contact Anouar on 07981 223541.

Help fund the flights that are saving lives

Reporter JAMES AVERILL finds out how our life-saving air ambulance is kept in the air by donations

Help is needed: BOB relies on donations from 'ordinary' people

WHEN MK NEWS revealed 'BOB', the air ambulance covering the Thames Valley and Chiltern area, was our charity of the year, we were inundated with emails and calls from people who explained how it had saved their lives.

But this life-saving service comes at a price.

BOB – named so because it serves Berkshire, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire – relies entirely on donations from generous members of the public.

The service took delivery of its air ambulance in July 2008, which can fly at speeds of up to 150mph and can usually reach most of its patch in 15 minutes.

The speed at which it can help seriously injured people is vital as it avoids the traffic congestion a land ambulance would have to deal with.

But maintaining this service is extremely expensive.

Each mission costs about £2,000 and the ambulance has flown more than 14,000

Lifesavers: The team at the Thames Valley and Chiltern Air Ambulance

since being acquired. That equates to £165,000 a month and £1.98million a year.

As such, the need for donations is crucial and the air ambulance welcomes any way people can raise money.

Katie Whelpdale is a fundraising manager for the service and has a few tips on how readers can help raise cash for BOB.

"My top tip to help donate would be to do something that you enjoy," she told MK NEWS.

"If you enjoy swimming, carry on swimming but get sponsored for it.

"We have all sorts of different ways in which people raise money for us.

We've had sponsored runs and sponsored bike rides and people who have done parachute jumps.

> We don't get any funding from the Government or the lottery. If people didn't donate we wouldn't be here
> Katie Whelpdale

"We've even had one person who had his entire body waxed and that raised more than £3,000, although I suspect he didn't enjoy that!"

And as Katie points out, it is entirely down to the people the service provides for to help keep it going.

"We don't get any funding from the Government or from the National Lottery," she said. "If ordinary people didn't donate the service wouldn't be here."

New theatre group to tackle Holocaust

BY ANNABEL HOWARD
editor@mk-news.co.uk

AN EX-DRAMA teacher has set up a groundbreaking national theatre company.

Cate Hibbert, who was head of drama for 12 years at Stantonbury Campus, has set up Voices of the Holocaust.

The group, based at the Creed Street Arts Centre in Wolverton, will use drama to explore one of the most difficult periods in human history and change the way the education system teaches the topic.

Popular themes in their performances are stories of hope, resistance, the power of love and the strength of the human spirit.

Cate said: "There is no other company of its kind in the country and very few others in the world.

"This is too important a subject and with our survivors increasingly leaving us we mustn't allow their voices to be lost.

Voices of the Holocaust: The theatre group has been set up to educate young people on the subject

"Theatre is a live, immediate medium that can speak on their behalf."

Voices has just agreed a partnership with the Holocaust Education Trust to write national guidelines for the teaching of the subject using drama and theatre.

Cate will also be writing a new play with Mark Wheeller, who alongside William Shakespeare, John Godber and Alan Ayckbourn is the most performed playwright in the Edexcel GCSE exams.

Voices will be holding an Holocaust education week from Monday to June 8, which includes a two-day workshop for A-level history students.

Being just like Tommy

TOMMY Cooper's clever quips are still laughed at today – and this new play celebrates his life.

Being Tommy Cooper starts in Las Vegas in 1954. A young Tommy is sat in a hotel room facing the prospect of his first big failure.

Following a rocky relationship with his manager, Cooper has to make some stark choices that determine his career.

Tom Green's production explores the pressures and loneliness of fame, but also leaves you rolling in the aisles with some of Cooper's most classic routines.

Being Tommy Cooper shows at Milton Keynes Theatre for one night only on Wednesday, June 5 at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost between £13.90 and £27.90.

They can be bought online by visiting www.atgtickets.com/miltonkeynes

singingroyalty

SINCE their first appearance in 1993, Coope, Boyes and Simpson have mastered the art of singing.

What the trio does seems simple at first glance: just three blokes who stand and sing in three-part harmony.

But their songs, mostly written by Jim Boyes and Lester Simpson, deal with social and environmental issues and the words are clever and sharp.

The harmonies are in the folk-country tradition, but with a twist that mirrors the barbed lyrics, a wide pitch range and thrilling bass sonorities swapped between all three.

The group have been described as the 'kings of unaccompanied harmonies', so make sure you don't miss out on the opportunity to see singing royalty in action!

The show takes place at the SongLoft at the Cock Hotel in Stony Stratford on Wednesday, June 5 at 8.15pm.

Tickets cost £10 in advance, or £12.50 on the door. To book email songloft@googlemail.com

cannoncomedy

VISITORS to the That Time of the Month Comedy Club will be getting two for the price of one on Sunday.

Stand-ups Pat Cahill, pictured, and Tom Webb will be sharing the bill, both of whom have growing reputations in the comedy world.

Cahill uses off-beat humour with an absurd outlook, which saw him win the Chortle Best Newcomer Award in 2012. Tom Webb has been David Baddiel's assistant on comedy show FC Dave and won rave reviews at the 2011 Edinburgh Fringe.

The event takes place at 8pm at The Cannon in Newport Pagnell.

Tickets cost £6 and can be bought online at www.wegottickets.com

actionthriller

THIS series is quickly turning into my movie-going guilty pleasure.

I wasn't at all a fan of the first trilogy – which seemed to be squarely aimed at car-lovers and race-junkies – but the franchise has evolved into the leading action thrill-ride of the current generation.

After escaping with over $100million from Rio, Dwayne Johnson's Agent Hobbs tracks down Dom Torretto (Vin Diesel) to help bring down an elite team specialising in high-tech vehicular warfare across the globe.

In-demand director Justin Lin again shows he has an eye for action, by providing a popcorn-crunching summer blockbuster spectacle that does exactly what it promises.

It ticks all of the high-octane action boxes, with Diesel power and then some.

shameshow

AS PART of MK Gallery's series of Scratch Nights, The Shame Show is quite unlike anything else happening this week.

Performance artist Caroline Smith, pictured, using the persona of Mertle, will be subverting notions of popular entertainment as she investigates concepts of shame with her audience.

In this game, the audience can confess and relieve themselves of their burden of shame.

As the evening progresses, Mertle becomes a non-judgemental listener and the audience become increasingly aware that beneath the confidently domestic exterior is a woman who shares their insecurities and self-doubt.

Caroline will also be collaborating with Paul Green in examining moments of shame in popular culture.

The Shame Show is an emotional exorcism that deals with psychological complexities in a manner that is both surprising and enlightening.

Tomorrow's event starts at 6.30pm and entry is free of charge.

robbroderick

SOME people like live music, some people like live comedy.

A lot of people like both and Rob Broderick, AKA Abandoman, is just the ticket for this demograph.

Winner of Hackney Empire New Act of the Year, the Musical Comedy Awards and the 2012 Adelaide Fringe Festival's Best Comedy Newcomer Award, Abandoman creates hilarious freestyle songs at lightening speed based on audience suggestions. This is a one hour show, with support coming from David Elms.

Abandoman plays at the Comedy Cow at The Crown in Stony Stratford. Tuesday's show begins at 8pm and tickets cost £10 when bought online at www.wegottickets.com

supergroup

FOR supergroup Asia, this gig at The Stables is a new chapter.

They will make the MK show their first with new guitarist Sam Coulson, who replaces the retiring Steve Howe. They will also try out tunes from their upcoming LP Valkyrie.

The group came together in 1981 with John Wetton (King Crimson) on bass and vocals, Geoff Downes (Yes) on keyboard and Carl Palmer (of ELP) on drums.

Tickets cost £30 for the 8pm gig on Wednesday, June 5.

theindelicates

THE Indelicates are a rock group hailing from Essex.

Featuring Simon Indelicate, who is also a performance poet, and Julia Indelicate, a documentary photographer, the duo have performed across the globe with their act.

They write melodic, catchy tunes, but possess an edge and wit in their songs, that vary in subject from the media's delight of fallen idols to the Waco Seige.

The Indelicates are performing on Friday at the Watershed MK. The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £4 in advance from www.wegottickets.com

JAMIE Stimpson and Mister Vee release their debut album, Judgement Day, in August. Read Jamie's exclusive column for MK LIFE

IT'S been a really busy time for us of late with the album release getting closer and the pressure is on.

The gigging season has begun and it's already seen us play in Camden, which was a great experience all round! This has led to more gigs being booked in towns outside MK.

The expectation of the album is setting in for us both. We can't wait for people to hear what we have put together, it really will be our Judgement Day though!

We've had a lot of hiccups along the way. We've been let down by many people making promises and not living up to them, but we have to expect it in this industry. It's dog eat dog and we've learnt to bite our tongue and rise above it.

Every day is a learning curve, but we feel like we're pulling our weight in a very tough industry.

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

• Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.

• Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.

• Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.

• Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.

• Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address . If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

• Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.

• Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.

• Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.

• Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

No wonder you ♥ paper

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.†

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

Two Sides is an industry initiative to promote the responsible use of print and paper as a uniquely powerful and natural communications medium.

Recycle your daily newspaper and help us make the best use of forest fibres.

CRAIG Pickering continued his track return with a second place in the 100m at the Bedford International Games.

The MK Athletic Club sprinter, who has recently become involved with the Great Britain bobsleigh set-up, ran 10.29s.

At the same meeting Joey Duck finished fifth and third in the 100m and 200m respectively and in the javelin Michael Cox was fifth ahead of club-mate Freddie Curtis who was seventh.

Meanwhile, there was the usual massive medal haul for the club's athletes at the Buckinghamshire County Championships.

In the M17 class Daniel Oderinde took the 100m title and Archie Rippin won the 400m and 1500m. In the M20 category Lewis Barnes picked up the shot put and discus titles and Thomas Purton won in the 400m.

For the senior men there was a win in the 1500m for Chad Lambert who just held off club-mate Ross Threlfall, and in the F15 category Ebony Carr led an MK clean sweep in the 100m. Fellow F15s Sade Ross and Paige Barnes won the shot put and discus respectively.

In the F17 section Dorothy Oduguwa captured the 100m title, Emanuela Motta won the pole vault, Naomi Greener triumphed in the long jump and Davina Oduguwa won the shot.

Diane Baldwin won the 400m and the veteran's 1500m for the senior women, and Jasmine Finlay won the senior 1500m race. Devon Byrne picked up a hat-trick of titles, winning the 100m hurdles, long jump and shot and Emma Beardmore picked up the discus title.

The club added to their titles with a number of second and third place finishes on a fine weekend of action.

At the Northants County Championships there was success for the club too, with Ben Sturgess picking up two titles in the 200m and 400m.

RUGBY UNION

MILTON Keynes player Ed Slater has seen his international hopes dashed by injury.

The Leicester Tigers lock suffered a reoccurrence of a quadriceps injury as his side beat Northampton Saints in the Premiership final on Saturday and will not be able to join England's tour to Argentina and Uruguay.

"It's unfortunate for Ed that he won't be able to join up with England this summer," said head coach Stuart Lancaster.

"But I'm sure he will be back and pushing for places next season."

Meanwhile, city full-back Jack Wallace has joined RFU Championship outfit Bristol after leaving London Wasps.

Lowe exit talk continues as move north is tipped

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

SPECULATION continues to link striker Ryan Lowe with a move away from Dons.

The front-man has been widely tipped to depart the club after just one season, with manager Karl Robinson hinting to MK SPORT last month that the 34-year-old feels more at home in the north of the country.

This week reports have stated that Tranmere Rovers and Lowe's former club Bury are ready to take their interest in the player up a notch and that could mean that his days in Dons colours are numbered.

Robinson has previously expressed his desire to keep him in Milton Keynes but the manager has also admitted that the forward's heart could be elsewhere.

If that is the case the club would have to decide on the best course of action with time still to run on his contract.

"I'd love to keep Ryan Lowe at the club next season but his base is up north and if that's where he feels more comfortable it's a decision we'd have to make as a football club," Robinson said in April.

"His desire and his passion to play football at his age is incredible. He's still got an awful lot left in the tank."

If Lowe does want to move back north then Wirral based side Tranmere would seemingly be an ideal destination for the Liverpool native.

Rovers boss Ronnie Moore claimed in October that a loan deal for the striker had nearly been agreed, a claim denied by Robinson, but their interest in the player appears to remain.

However, the year remaining on the deal Lowe signed upon joining Dons last summer from Sheffield Wednesday could prove to be a stumbling block for any interested parties.

Lowe found the net 12 times in his debut season at Dons as he tied for the golden boot with Dean Bowditch, but he experienced a slow start to life at stadiummk, scoring just once in his first 18 appearances.

He moved to the south of the country for the first time when he joined the club, having previously also played for Chester, Crewe and Shrewsbury.

Meanwhile, Robinson has now distanced himself from the much discussed managerial job at Sheffield United.

The 31-year-old was understood to be a top target for Dons' League One rivals with speculation linking him to Bramall Lane rumbling on for more than a fortnight.

At one stage the odds of him taking the job in Yorkshire were as short as 1/2 but they are now back to nearer the 12/1 mark after Robinson opted not to discuss the post.

United made an approach for Motherwell boss Stuart McCall last week but he too has ruled himself out of the running.

Wolverton enjoy victory over Bletchley in Cherwell League

A LOOK at the local cricket action from the weekend of May 25/26.

Northamptonshire Cricket League Premier

THERE was a heavy defeat for Stony Stratford who went down by a massive 144 runs to Northampton Saints.

Steve Bellew took 3/30 as Saints reached 187/9 after batting first and this total proved to be more than enough as Stony slumped to just 43 all out, mainly due to a devastating spell of bowling from Jake Higginbotham who ended with impressive figures of 8/19.

No Stony players were able to make it into double figures and the side remain in 10th in the table.

Cherwell League

GREAT Brickhill were just edged out by Shipton-under-Wychwood who triumphed by just seven runs in Division One after posting 168 all out in the opening innings.

Garth Davson took 4/59 and Julian Blackwell 3/29 for Great Brickhill but their batsmen fell just short in response to the target.

Jasper Davies top-scored with 31 as they were bowled out for 161 after 50 overs.

In Division Two, Wolverton Town beat Bletchley Town by 17 runs in the meeting between the near neighbours.

Wolverton were bowled out for 140 as Jude Ramanadanpulle shone with the ball for Bletchley, finishing with figures of 7/58.

Wayam Fayyaz was the only other wicket taker for Bletchley with 3/38 as Atif Akhlaq hit 47 for Wolverton in a total which proved to be good enough.

Bletchley were dismissed for 123 in their chase as Idrees Butt claimed figures of 3/33 and Kieran Lampard took 4/13.

Four Counties League

MILTON Keynes CC had to settle for a losing draw in a high scoring contest with Division One leaders North Crawley.

After electing to field, MK had a difficult time with the ball as North Crawley racked up an impressive total of 278/5 with Alex Walker blasting 115 and Sam Chapman making 68.

Milton Keynes batted well themselves in response, with Sam Hagger making 59 and Jalil Sear reaching exactly 50 in their total of 242/7.

New City MK are second in the table after their four wicket victory over Newport Pagnell.

Mick Page made 45 as Newport posted 174/7 but Amit Mulay's 76 helped New City to their target as they finished on 175/6.

Olney Town picked up a four wicket victory over MK City in a low scoring affair which saw both sides struggle with the bat.

Stuart Keeping took 6/16 as City were rattled out for just 53, and Olney made heavy weather of the chase, eventually sneaking over the line at 54/6 with City's Mohammed Shahid chipping in with figures of 3/17.

Cranfield University were bowled out for 91 as they lost by seven wickets to Elstow, and in the league's remaining game Thurleigh beat Eaton Bray by nine wickets. In Division Two, New Bradwell lost by three wickets to Buckland and Aston Clinton.

Only three New Bradwell batsmen made it into double figures as they were bowled out for 91 in the opening innings, but they did better with the ball as their opponents only just crept home with a score of 93/7.

Mercedes pair 'like buses on a cruise'

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

SEBASTIAN Vettel said he was surprised by the lack of pace in the opening laps as he claimed a second place finish at the Monaco Grand Prix.

The Red Bull Racing driver started third on the grid at the prestigious street circuit and was shocked that the Mercedes duo of Nico Rosberg and Lewis Hamilton, who started on pole and in second respectively, did not roar away in the early going.

Rosberg went on to win the race on a circuit where overtaking is traditionally difficult, but Vettel did manage to sneak past Hamilton along with team mate Mark Webber who finished in third to make it a double podium for the Tilbrook outfit.

"I was a bit surprised by the slow pace of the opening laps," said Vettel.

"Usually you expect two silver arrows in front of you, but they were more like buses today going for a cruise on the first couple of laps. But, the strategy for them was clear and they did a very good job."

Both Vettel and Webber took advantage of a safety car break to emerge ahead of Hamilton following pit stops.

In the end the lack of overtaking opportunities removed any real racing from the grand prix with BBC pundit David Coulthard later describing the race as 'rubbish'.

"Overall I'm happy and pleased with the result, we know that it's very difficult to overtake here," said Vettel.

"Congratulations to Nico, he did a very good job and had a very controlled race; I think he had the pace and the tyres to respond whenever we tried to get a little bit closer to him. I had a fantastic start, but there was no room.

"I think I could have gone past both Mercedes, but there was no space and I had to lift. Then Mark came and it was very tight into the first corner."

Team Principal Christian Horner said the team's result was probably the best they could have hoped for given their grid position.

"We managed to get both cars ahead during the pit stops and safety car period, in what turned out to be a relatively processional race due to everyone adopting a one-stop strategy," said Horner.

SECOND PLACE: Sebastian Vettel ahead of Mark Webber in Monaco.

"In Monaco you can never overtake, so it was all about conserving tyres and managing the pace until the end of the race. As we saw with Sebastian, the pace was there as he set the fastest lap, but I think second and third place was probably optimum from our grid positions."

Treble world champion Vettel continues to lead the way in the drivers' standings, and is now 18 points ahead of the Lotus of Kimi Raikkonen.

Red Bull also have a 41 point lead over Ferrari in the Constructors' Championship.

"For us, we knew we were a little bit against it starting on the second row," said Webber.

"But I got an absolutely incredible start and it's sod's law that it's the shortest run into the first corner here.

"Seb and I had nowhere to go, so we were lifting while Nico and Lewis looked like they had tricky ones. We will save some of those starts for future reference.

"Then after that it was basically about saving the tyres and making the one stop work for us.

"It was predictable that if the race was going to stack up, then the two-stop was not really an option as you could have come back into traffic. It was nice to get Lewis on the stops."

Rutherford reaffirms his sprinting ambitions

GREG Rutherford has reiterated his desire to combine long jumping with sprinting.

After leaping to glory in the Olympic long jump competition at London 2012 the city athlete spoke of his wish to take to the track as well and he has reaffirmed those ambitions as the new athletics season begins to kick into gear ahead of the World Championships in Moscow this summer.

Rutherford could aim to break into Great Britain's 4x100m relay squad but he believes that he has the capability to challenge in the individual events as well.

"I'm looking to race relatively soon," Rutherford told the BBC.

"I said that post-Games I was going to run and the problem has been that I haven't had the right set-up.

"I went to run a few weeks ago in America but I'd jumped a couple of days before and I was still sore so I wouldn't have done myself justice so I pulled out.

"I'm very keen to run because I genuinely think I can cause an upset in the 100m. As a junior I featured regularly in 100m finals and even made the senior AAAs final in 2005 as a junior and a long jumper. I like to think I could do well."

Twenty-six-year-old Rutherford added that he thought he could be 'one of the greatest sprinters in British history' if he trained solely for the 100m, but that he didn't foresee that happening.

"I'm probably not going to get the chance to do that as ultimately I have to stay a long jumper because that's what I do," he said.

"But I think I can run quicker than a few that are around now and possibly cause an upset here and there."

Rutherford, whose 100m personal best is 10.26 seconds, was victorious in the long jump this weekend at the Great City Games in Manchester.

The 26-year-old registered a distance of 7.99m in the city's Albert Square to finish ahead of fellow Briton Chris Tomlinson who managed 7.69m and Rudon Bastian of the Bahamas who was third after he recorded a best of 7.55m.

The MK Athletic Club member is now due to return to the United States for more training, and has spoken further about sponsorship difficulties after he competed in Milton Keynes colours in the Diamond League meeting in Shanghai last month.

"Sponsorship seemed to dry up and disappear post-Games which was interesting," said Rutherford.

"Because you win an Olympic title and everyone expects you to be a millionaire, which is very untrue in my case anyway, and to have endorsements thrown at you and that hasn't happened.

"I was sponsored leading up to the Games and it was fine.

"Then after that people chose not to renew or what they offered me was bad so I decided to jump in my Milton Keynes vest to show loyalty to people that have backed me."

KORFBALL

MK CITY Korfball Club made a battling start to its summer season of outdoor action at the Leicester City Tournament.

An experimental squad travelled north from MK for the one-day competition, with six experienced players joined by three outdoor debutantes.

Against opposition from as far afield as Southampton, Cardiff and Manchester, MK won two and drew one of the eight games it contested, but all five of the team's defeats were by just a single goal.

Joanne Bamforth was MK's top scorer with four goals over the course of the day, with the Nottingham Outlawz going on to win the tournament for the fifth year in succession.

To prepare for a busy schedule of tournaments this summer, MK City Korfball is staging outdoor training sessions every Wednesday from 7pm on the MK Rugby Club pitches at Emerson Valley, for male and female players of all abilities. New players get their first two sessions free. More information can be found at www.korfballinmk.co.uk.

WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL

CITY Paralympian Simon Munn is looking forward to pulling on the national vest again for The Standard Life Continental Clash 2013.

Great Britain will take on Spain, Germany and London 2012 gold medallists Canada between June 10-13 with the European Championships now less than three months away.

Munn, a veteran of six Paralympic Games, is looking forward to the tournament at the University of Worcester Arena.

"We've got a big couple of months coming up and the Standard Life Continental Clash gives us the chance to really maximise our preparation," said the 45-year-old.

"Great Britain has a strong rivalry with Canada, Germany, and Spain so it looks like it will be a great tournament."

RUGBY LEAGUE

MILTON Keynes Wolves slipped to a second defeat in the East Premier Division as they went down 34-4 to North Herts Crusaders.

The loss means that Wolves are still looking for their first victory in their second season since formation, but the result was an improvement on the 90-12 opening day mauling at the hands of St Ives Roosters last week.

Crusaders were 24-0 up at half-time and Wolves looked like they would draw a blank until they got themselves on the board with an unconverted try in the dying stages.

Wolves had a number of debutantes in their ranks and were pleased with the progress they made against the defending league champions.

"It was a much improved performance," said coach Abe Kerr after the game.

"Each week we will seek to improve across the main component areas of the game such as tackling, communication, ball control under pressure and ball carrying."

Wolves next face Bedford Tigers on Saturday.

Return to Dons has left record holder frustrated

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

IZALE McLeod is hoping to rediscover his scoring touch and become an MK Dons hero again next season.

The club's all-time leading goalscorer signed on for a second spell at stadiummk in January but the striker is the first to admit that it has not been the happiest of homecomings.

He scored 11 goals for relegated League One outfit Portsmouth before making the switch to Karl Robinson's side, but then scored just once for Dons in 13 appearances, eight of which came from the bench.

"It has been more than frustrating," McLeod told the Dons website.

"I haven't played a major part but it is something I want to rectify for next season because I don't want to be sitting on the bench, I want to be playing football like everyone else."

McLeod's case wasn't helped by a suspension carried over from his time at Portsmouth which prevented him from immediately slotting into the side.

He was also ineligible for Dons' fine run to the fifth round of the FA Cup which also contributed to his appearances coming in dribs and drabs.

A disappointing return to Portsmouth in February saw McLeod falter in front of goal in front of a less than sympathetic home crowd, but he was finally on target in the 3-0 win against eventual champions Doncaster Rovers in March.

However, that goal failed to spark a run of success in front of the net and McLeod must now wait until the start of the new season to try and find his shooting Midas touch once more.

His return to Dons, where he has 61 goals in all, was the first time he has moved clubs during a campaign and he thinks that could have been a factor for the barren spell.

"In my career I have never moved halfway through a season," said McLeod.

"So this was my first time and I suppose it was a lot harder than I thought it would be to try and settle in.

"It's going to be good just to get pre-season under my belt and to play some pre-season games, and then the plan is to hit the ground running from there.

"I am a pretty fit guy generally so doing the off-season work isn't too much trouble for me.

"I don't dread pre-season, at the end of the day it has to be done.

"I think when I was younger I might have struggled but now I have done it so many times it is like second nature and you just get on with it knowing it will help for the season."

Boss Robinson had often spoken about his admiration for McLeod before he returned to the club, so it was no surprise when he swooped to sign him when he became available from Portsmouth on a free transfer.

Speaking earlier this season, he backed the striker, who could well be given further opportunities should Ryan Lowe's tipped transfer back north go through, to respond.

"Izale is going through a time that a lot of forwards go through," said Robinson.

"They find it hard to hit the back of the net, but when it starts coming back to him he'll start scoring goals quite freely.

"I've tremendous faith in him, he's a great lad who wants to work hard. Things just aren't going for him.

"He's snatching at things at the moment, you've got to relax and ease yourself into it.

"There was a lot of expectation on his shoulders when he came back to the football club and he'll become a much better player for it."

Before and after 1 RF Treatment

SKIN TIGHTENING AND LIFTING- it's not just wrinkles and uneven tone that make your skin look older. As the years go by your collagen and elastin fibres weaken and deplete, leading to slack skin. The newest weapon in LasaDerm's anti aging arsenal is Radio Frequency which is creating a buzz thanks to its ability to lift sagging cheeks, turkey necks, jowly chins, craggy eyes and even soften and smooth out stretch marks and loose skin on tummies, without the use of a scalpel. Radio Frequency uses tripolar electrodes to deliver the energy which heats the deeper dermis to 55-65 which stimulates fibroblast to produce collagen. This cumulative increase in collagen and elastin has numerous benefits which include firmer, smoother, tighter skin with smaller pores, fewer wrinkles and a softer, plumper texture.

Before and After 4 Treatments

BODY RESHAPING - Thanks to the use of clever technologies such as 3D Non Surgical Lipo. You can now FREEZE, MELT and Liquefy fatty bulges, break up cellulite and tighten flabby skin without the incisions, pain or recovery time of a surgical liposuction. 3D Lipo utilises Cavitation (melting) and Cryolipolysis (freezing) to Zap Fat.

CAVITATION is designed to shift fat from podgy bellies, love handles, thighs, hips and arms. Many less sophisticated Lipo devices use lasers as the medium to remove fat but they are dependent on significant immediate exercise to achieve results. This for me always begs the question "Is it the procedure or the exercise that is producing the results? We know that exercise is an integral part of a healthy lifestyle but if you are fairly active and just not able to shift those pockets of stubborn fat then that is where these procedures should fit in!" says Dr Dewji.

CRYOLIPOLYSIS or CRYO is designed to "freeze" the fat. A moulded cup is fitted over the stomach, love handles, back fat or bingo wings for example; heavy duty suction pulls the pudge inside the cup where it's chilled to -4 C. Some of the fat cells are destroyed and ultimately disposed off by the liver, a process that can take up to 3-4 months. "A minimum of 25% reduction in fat cells that fit inside the cup is achieved, "says Dr Dewji. "That's a very high level of efficacy. As a clinician I need to know that the treatments we offer are safe, effective, scientifically based and fit in with our holistic care for our clients.
3D Lipo has delivered that for us!

FACIALS - More and more women want facials that are results driven. If spots and breakouts on the face are an issue try the new "acnefuse" Hydrafacial. This procedure uses a vacuum exfoliating tip to suck up dead cells and stimulate blood flow. Next the skin is dosed with anti inflammatory and pore unclogging acids. This reduces blackheads, pore size and breakouts. A course of 6 is recommended although results can be seen after the first treatment.

If your complexion is looking dull and lifeless then try the "hydrafuse" Hydrafacial. Also ideal for treating mild pigmentation, wrinkles and plumping up the skins texture. This procedure puts the Vaa Vaa Woom back into dull, lifeless, stressed skin by using a potent deep exfoliating solution during the vacuum exfoliation followed by collagen boosting and radiance inducing anti oxidants to give skin that dewy youthful glow.

The Hydrafacial Treatment is a favourite amongst A Listers Kate Winslet, Beyonce and Eva Mendes. To Try this SEE OUR AMAZING OFFER on the page opposite WRINKLE SMOOTHING – when it comes to softening lines and wrinkles on the forehead, between the brows, crow's feet around the eyes, the popularity of Botox injections shows no signs of waning. Botox can also be used to reduce excessive sweating and more recently in the treatment of migraines.

If you're 40 something with deeper set wrinkles and folds, sunken cheeks, under eye hollows or limp lips which all add unnecessary years to your face then DERMAL FILLERS are the way forward.
As lines are filled, skin looks firmer younger and the effects can last for up to 12 months. Dermal Fillers can take 10 years of easily. It's important to ensure that you go to a practitioner who has an eye for facial aesthetics. During the consultation the Doctor should be able to show you pictures of before and after clients that "THEY" have actually done.
